AFTER DINNER.

Persons who suffer from indigestion can arrest the progress of that painful malady by the use of an after-dinner pill, so composed that it will give tone to the stomach, prevent heartburn, rouse the liver to healthy action, invigorate the kidneys, and thus, through the activity of these organs, promote the natural movement of the stomach and bowels.

AYER'S PILLS are so compounded that their action, though mild, effectually produces the above results. They also, in curing Constipation, remove the cause of Biliousness, Liver Complaint, Kidney Disease, Rheumatism, and many other serious ailments.

AYER'S PILLS

contain no mineral nor poisonous substances and do not gripe unless the bowels are irritated, and even then their influence is healing. To continue their effect in chronic cases, they will not only be taken in diminishing instead of increasing doses. For women, and infants or travelers in sparsely settled countries where physicians are not at hand, they are of inestimable value. There is hardly a disease which will not be relieved, and in most cases cured, if taken promptly. To young girls just entering upon womanhood, and to women whose period of maturity is drawing to a close, Ayer's Pills, in moderate doses, merely sufficient to ensure regular action of the bowels, will be found of Incalculable Value.

THE PASSING OF LETTERS.

The mail from the east, and the mail from the west—

A thunder of wheels—a rushing blast; But the sleeping travelers never guessed What voices arose as the two trains passed.

"Tell him you met me, tell him I fly!" "That will I—tell her I stay not nor rest!" Thus greeted love's messengers speeding by, One from the east, and one from the west. Edith M. Thomas.

SCHOOLING OF SAILOR BOYS.

Aboard the Training Ships—Queer Penalties Inflicted for Misbehavior.

The real schooling of the sailor boys does not begin until they are transferred to the training ship at Newport. While abroad the Minnesota they are piped out of their hammocks every morning by a shrill note from the boatswain's whistle followed by the sing-song cry: "All hands—up all hammocks." The cry is taken up and passed along from hammock to hammock by the walking boys until all have tumbled out. Then there is a great scurrying to see who will be dressed and have his hammock and bedding lashed up first. The hammocks are stowed in a netting on the deck above during the day. The boys are forbidden to lay their hammocks on the deck or across the guns, but must hold them from the time they are carried to the spar deck until they are taken by the stower. A few hours are spent nearly every morning in washing down the decks and polishing the brass-work about the ship. At noon all hands are piped down to dinner, and at sunset the higher sounds a call for hauling down the colors. Five minutes later comes supper. After supper hammocks are piped down, at 8 bells tattoo is sounded, and an hour later the crew is ordered to turn in and keep silence.

Talking after bedtime, swearing, fighting and other boyish offenses are punished in several original ways, the most common of which is to make the offender "toe a seam" for several minutes at a time or send him aloft to "keep a mast-head lookout." Boys who are careless about their clothes or their hammocks are obliged to carry them on their shoulders for an hour or two every morning until they are cured. Solitary confinement on bread and water for five days is the severest punishment awarded by a court-martial. Only boys between the ages of 14 and 18 years are received at the training-ship. From the moment an apprentice enlists his pay is $9 per month and he is placed in a class, where he acquires the rudiments of a prospective profession as a sailor.

In addition to studying arithmetic, geography and United States history while on the training-ship, the boys are given regular practice in boxing, fencing, rowing, and sailing boats. When qualified for sea they are drafted to a cruising practice ship and visit Europe or the West Indies. After returning to the United States and visiting home for ten days or two weeks, boys are transferred to naval vessels in all parts of the world. This is usually about fifteen months after enlistment, and he is not apt to be changed again until he is of age. Then he may receive his discharge or be re-enlisted at will.—Cor. New York World.

Summer Drinks Taken in Winter.

Summer drinks are taken largely in winter also. We keep our soda fountain in operation the year round. Vichy and other mineral waters are called for by regular customers, and quite a trade is done in them. Besides, special summer concoctions are sold in bottles and cases. Invalids purchase them, and many strict believers in hygienic matters drink these beverages at home. They taste as well in winter as in summer, and of course are just as efficacious. They are a much nicer thing to take than beer, and leave one feeling better and clearer.—Dr. Addington in Globe-Democrat.

Hash at a Boston Boarding-House.

First landlady—I don't give my boarders hash nowadays.

Second lady—Indeed! What do you do with your odds and ends of cold meat? You don't surely throw them away?

First landlady—Oh, no; I make them up into croquettes.

Second landlady—Ah, I see; your hash is idealized.—Boston Budget.

How to Mark Tools Indelibly.

To mark tools, first cover the articles to be marked with a thin coating of tallow or beeswax, then with a sharp instrument write the name in the tallow. Clear with a leather; let the place written be left for ten minutes; then dip in water and rub off, and the marks will be etched into the steel or iron.—Chicago Times.

How Holland's Horses Are Made.

In Holland the horses are so made that the toe does not touch the ground when on the horse, the weight being supported by the middle and heel of the shoe. The shoe is nailed perfectly flat to the hoof, and has no spring. This leaves the hold of the nails undisturbed.—Chicago Herald.

Transplantation of Muscular Tissue.

Dr. Salvia, an Italian surgeon, says it is always possible to transplant a portion of muscular tissue from one animal to another, differences of species having no effect upon the definitive result of the operation.

A Species of Vegetable Sand-Paper.

In Zanzibar the leaves of a species of fig are used for polishing wood, just as we employ sand paper, and are said to give a finish which sand paper can not impart.—Arkansas Traveler.

Workingwomen in England and Wales.

According to the latest official figures the number of workingwomen in England and Wales is 7,706,542. They are employed in 380 different branches of work.

In Arizona the cottonwoods are without foliage for about six weeks in the year.

King Theodore had sold some of the cottonwoods in Arizona.

Cheapness of a Hindoo Loom.

A Hindoo loom, complete, is worth a cent, and weaves shawls, silk and muslin which are most attractive and cheap.

FUN OF BREAKING A BRONCHO.

The Severe But Salutary Lessons Given by Cow-Boys to Unbroken Colts.

While the boss goes on assigning the horses, Tex coils up his rials, a rope of plaited rawhide as large as your finger and from fifty to eighty feet long. On the end of this is worked a "hondo," or small ring of cowhide, through which the slack is doubled, and he pulls enough slack through it to make a loop fifteen or twenty feet in circumference. Holding the coil in his left hand, he grasps the rope just outside the loop and holds it in his right hand, doubled back on the loop.

Then he throws the loop out behind him and shouts to the colt, who makes a dash along the side of the corral. As he passes Tex throws the loop overhead and jerks it taut as it falls over the pony's head. The frightened colt runs to the end of the rope at full speed, and meanwhile Tex crouches on the ground, with his weight thrown back on the rope. The pony changes ends with a jerk, and almost breaks his neck, and then Tex runs up to him. This gives him slack and starts him again, and after the performance has been gone through a dozen times the pony has learned not to "run on a rope," and the first step toward his education is accomplished. He is then named. This is a subject for debate, and Tex finally decides on "Streaks," as appropriate to a "paint" or piebald horse. Streaks is led out of the corral, and while one of the other boys holds the rope, Tex takes another rope, and as the pony runs past him snatches his fore feet and throws him. This second rope is passed to another man, who holds it so that the pony is powerless.
